

Meeresbewohner

Bezeichnung	Wissenschaftlicher Name	Bild
Europäische Strandkrabbe	Carcinus maenas
Saphir-Demoiselle	Chrysiptera cyanea
Dicklippige Meeräsche	Chelon labrosus
Flunder	Platichthys flesus

Krustenanemone	Zoanthus sp.
Seedahlie, Dickhörnige Seerose	Urticina felina
Gemeine Strandschnecke	Littorina littorea
Kleingefleckter Katzenhai	Scyliorhinus canicula

Amerikanischer Hummer	Homarus americanus	 A photograph of an American crayfish (Homarus americanus) resting on a rocky substrate. The crayfish has a mottled green and brown coloration with prominent blue and red markings on its legs and claws.
Sandgrundel	Pomatoschistus minutus	 A photograph of a sand goby (Pomatoschistus minutus) resting on a sandy seabed. The fish is small and has a mottled brown and white pattern, blending into the sand.
Glühkohlen- Anemonenfisch	Amphiprion ephippium	 A photograph of a clownfish (Amphiprion ephippium) swimming in the water. The fish has a bright orange body with white stripes and a white face.
Bangai-Kardinalbarsch	Pterapogon kauderni	 A photograph of a Banggai cardinalfish (Pterapogon kauderni) swimming in the water. The fish has a black and white striped pattern and a prominent, long, blue and white striped tail.

Indischer - Lippfisch	Halichoeres leucoxanthus
Brauner Doktorfisch	Zebrasoma scopas	